Data

We investigate data primarily collected from Foursquare.com -- a table of food venues and respective category.

Because these are neighboring cities, we refine choices by each city's zip codes.

We also need each city's Population and Size to determine opportunity.

We compare the venues between cities to get each city's unique suggestion(s).